Dear Matthias,

I had a look at the links you shared but could not come to the conclusion that the breach (if any) of the Code of Conduct is sufficiently clear that I must take immediate action here. I added this to the agenda for the next meeting of the Code of Conduct committee. We'll try to discuss the incident there and I will let you know what's the outcome of that discussion.

PS: When reporting to sage-conduct, you can make our job a bit easier in the future if you do not reply to a message with a separate report. So, for us, each report is a separate thread and we do not need to keep track of multiple reports in separate mails in the same thread.

The next one, same PR.

This requires immediate attention.

Dear Matthias,

We reviewed the comment that you reported. We do not agree with Dima's statement, and do not think that you are "abusing rules". However, we do not think that any action from our side is required. In particular, we do not think that Dima is "playing the victim" here. Dima is understandably frustrated that he cannot comment on your PRs anymore. At the same time we believe that you have the right to block him.

Hi Julian and committee:

What am I supposed to do with this?

It does not matter whether he is "understandably frustrated", frustrated otherwise, or any other variant of this.

What matters is that he cannot be allowed to continue to make denunciations of this type, which have no place in our community.

I understand and support this elementary principle of enforcement; but it certainly does not override the duty to correct publicly the damage that is done by the public actions of the abuser.
